World Water Day

Report of World Water Day 2019

In 1993, the United Nations General Assembly officially designated March 22 as World Water Day. World Water Day is coordinated by UN-Water in collaboration with governments and partners. World Water Day is about taking action to tackle the water crisis. Today, there are over 663 million people living without a safe water supply close to home, spending countless hours queuing or trekking to distant sources, and coping with the health impacts of using contaminated water. In this regard our VVLC Eco-Club organized a day as world water day on 22nd 2019 at classroom no 07. This programme Sri K.V.R Choudhary, In Charge Senior Geologist, District Ground Water Office had addressed the students and faculty as Chief Guest of this programme and he delivered a lecture on conservation of ground water, he mentioned, generally speaking, contaminated groundwater is very difficult and expensive to clean up. Solutions can be found after groundwater has been contaminated but this isn't always easy. The best thing to do is adopt pollution prevention and conservation practices in order to protect important groundwater supplies from being contaminated or depleted in the first place. He had spoken about how to protect or conserve ground water with data. This programme were presided by our Principal Sri K B Vasudeva and Prof Rajesh M.C has done vote of thanks. This programme was organized by Eco-club VVLC and student and Volunteers were shown their presence at this occasion.
