Dr. Deepu P congratulated to the winner who secured cash prize in the Prevention of AIDS Day Chart competition. In her presidential address she pointed out the Posters in public spaces (pillars, parking lots, restrooms, hospital waiting areas, metro/bus stations, outside cinema multiplexes, etc.) are subject to numerous external influences such as the type of environment, lighting conditions, weather conditions, competition with other close by visual media, and partial concealment by persons or objects. The sum of these influences, and not always the optimal framework conditions, have a great impact on the visibility and readability of posters. All these factors, clubbed together, impact the efficacy of the poster.
