CAREER GUIDANCE & PLACEMENT CELL

REPORT ON ETIQUETTE IN ACTION

On 23rd May 2025 lex lectio on “Etiquette in Action: Procedural conduct before the bench” was organized for Final year students. Smt Geetha, Advocate, Mysuru addressed the students. She began her lecture by citing various opportunities to pursue after obtaining law degree. She even highlighted the various areas of practice like civil, criminal, corporate etc. available for law graduates. One can choose either of these area for practice out of their interest. The criminal and civil hierarchy of courts were cited along with the procedure followed by court in first hearing, evidence and arguments stage. Mentioning about professional ethics she said, a professional should dress well. Court mannerism and dressing sense for lawyers is very important. Using of mobile phones in court hall, not respecting their seniors and judges are the most unprofessional behaviour which the present generation has cultivated. For a successful career in law, one should learn court mannerism and should follow the principles. Concluding her lecture, she said an individual should have a goal and always he should work towards achieving that goal.

Concluding this programme vote of thanks was delivered by Dr. Sridevi Krishna, coordinator, career guidance and placement cell. Dr. Deepu.P, Principal presided over this programme. Dr. Prakruthi A.R and Sri Devanand, Asst. Professor were present in this occasion.
